Genealogy Group - January 5

On Saturday, January 5, 2019 at 10:00 a.m., join the Genealogy Group for "Sharing Our Stories." Members of the group will be discussing their genealogical journeys and sharing their expertise.

Do you have questions about using Ancestry? Do you have solutions or tricks that you would like to share? Maureen Phillips will discuss the basics of using Ancestry then will facilitate a group brainstorming session.

Pauline Wilson will share the story of how she found out that her father's parents were not actually his parents. She will have photos and memorabilia to share.

Kathy Walsh will discuss the ancestry road trip she took with her father. A tiny town in Kansas provided a treasure trove of information about her father's maternal ancestry.

Beadcraft After Dark - January 7

Who says Beadcraft is just for kids? Perler Beads - those tiny plastic beads that can melt - are great for relaxation and relieving stress! Create your shape and design, iron them into place, and leave with a keychain or magnet. Adults only are invited to join us for an evening of beading fun on Monday, January 7 at 6:00 p.m. Time for grown-ups to have some of the fun! Call or e-mail the library to register.

Nonfiction Book Group - January 14

Join us on Monday, January 14 at 6:30 p.m. to discuss Natural Causes by Barbara Ehrenreich.

"With her trademark take-no-prisoners prose, Ehrenreich (Nickel and Dimed) argues that a desperation to control our fates leads us to cling to ritualized medical procedures, dietary fads, and gym exercises that generate corporate profits but do nothing to change our destiny. Ehrenreich criticizes the classist arrogance of framing sickness as a moral failing, when health largely hinges on uncontrollable vagaries of our genes and cells (not to mention poverty). The author combines two themes: the first is the fiery treatise against medicalization and the "cult of wellness," while the second is a mishmash of theories of the human body at war with itself and notions of an "animate universe." With a PhD in cellular immunology, the author's credentials in science and medicine are unimpeachable, and her ability to make the her subjects accessible is unsurpassed. In this book, she drifts into a dystopian and idiosyncratic scientism, softening the potency of the text's first half. VERDICT A welcome reminder to relax in the face of our own mortality, this is fast-paced, hard-nosed discourse. Sure to appeal to dissidents from the cult of wellness." ## China in the 21st Century - January 15

The Camden Conference presents Matt Ward at the Kennebunk Free Library on Tuesday, January 15 at 6:00. In his presentation, "Modern China in the 21st Century," Ward will discuss China's rise from poverty to global economic power. He will explore what that rise means for the rest of the world and what it means for the United States specifically.

Matt Ward is a retired Foreign Service officer. He is Past-President of the World Affairs Council of Maine and has been an Adjunct Professor at the USM School of Social Work where he taught multicultural social work, and in the Political Science Department where he taught modern Chinese politics. He currently lectures on international issues and consults on cross-cultural matters.

Matt Ward served the United States as a career Foreign Service Officer from 1967 to 1996. Specializing in economic, developmental and humanitarian issues, Matt served in Vietnam (CORDS), Cambodia, Haiti, Myanmar, Iran, Thailand, Indonesia, Singapore, Luxembourg, China (including Taiwan and Hong Kong) and the Sudan. He was a pioneer in developing refugee processing systems for "boat people" arriving on the shores of Indonesia and Singapore, and was the director, in Taiwan, of the school that trained U.S. diplomats in Chinese language, culture, economics, history and politics in preparation for service in China and Hong Kong.

This presentation is sponsored by the Camden Conference, held February 22-24, 2019 in Camden, Maine. The topic of this year's conference is: "Is This China's Century?" KFL is a participating library bringing an extension of this conference to our community.

Learn About the Lunar Eclipse - January 19

Scott Negley will be here on Saturday, January 19 at 11:00 a.m. to discuss the total lunar eclipse that will be happening on January 20. Negley will also talk about the 2024 total solar eclipse that will be visible in northern New England and review the bright stars and constellations of the spectacular winter sky (which has more bright stars than any other time of the year).

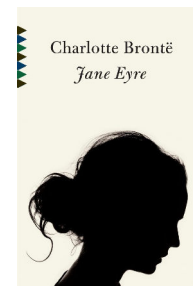

Scott Negley owns and operates a portable planetarium system for presenting astronomy programs to elementary and middle school classes in northern New England. Educated initially as an engineer, a binocular tour of the heavens ignited a passion for the stars that led him to the University of Pennsylvania for a M.S. degree in astronomy and a 40+-year career as an astronomy educator. He has been privileged to convey the splendor of the universe to students of all ages, initially as a university instructor, then as a school district planetarium director, adult school teacher and elder hostel instructor. As a Solar System Ambassador, Scott enjoys the opportunity to educate and inspire others with NASA's magnificent discoveries.

International Golden Retriever Rescue - January 22

The Camden Conference presents Peter Fitzgerald, Emeritus Professor of Law, and Allyson MacKenna, Executive Director of Yankee Golden Retriever Rescue, at the Kennebunk Free Library on Tuesday, January 22 at 6:00 p.m. Their talk, "From Chinese Streets to American Homes: International Golden Retriever Rescue and Adoption," is free and open to all.

In recent years, pet ownership in China has increased significantly, due in no small part to the development of a large, urban, middle class. China is now said to have the world's third largest dog population, estimated at more than 27 million animals, and a booming pet and pet-products marketplace. Many - especially younger - Chinese welcome this development. However, the legacy of the Maoist era when pet dogs were viewed as part of a Western lifestyle that was inappropriate for socialist China is still seen in a wide range of conflicting legal and social attitudes towards pet dogs.

Accordingly, alongside the increasing number of pet dogs, there are also persistent social issues with puppy mills, strays, abandoned animals, and even trafficking in stolen pets - and as a result there are a substantial number of Chinese dogs in need of new homes. Yankee Golden Retriever Rescue is one of a handful of breed-specific rescue organizations that works with its Chinese counterparts to bring some of these dogs to the United States for adoption.

This talk will provide an overview of the current status of companion animals in China and how it is grappling with many of the same issues seen in this country and elsewhere, and will also describe YGRR's specific experience and expertise in handling international rescues and finding new "forever" homes for Golden Retrievers here in New England.

Presenters include Emeritus Professor of Law Peter Fitzgerald, a member of the Board of Directors of the Camden Conference and author of the law school text "International Issues in Animal Law." Also speaking will be Allyson MacKenna, the Executive Director of Yankee Golden Retriever Rescue, which was established in 1985 and has placed over 5,600 homeless Golden Retrievers into loving homes. Additionally, YGRR will also bring one or more of its "China dogs" for you to meet at the presentation!

Get Organized Through Journaling - January 28

The New Year is here which means it's a great time to get organized! If you've struggled with where to start, journaling might be just the place. On Monday, January 28, at 6:00 p.m, Simple Living Coach & Consultant Lisa Luken will introduce various types of journaling and will illustrate how journaling can be a great tool for getting organized, achieving goals, practicing self-care and living intentionally. Lisa will share ideas for how to use journaling with other digital and print planning systems and she'll share tips and resources you can use to create journals that are as simple or creative as you'd like and that, most importantly, work for you!

Feel free to bring any journaling supplies you may have; the library will have limited supplies on hand.

Trivia Night - January 30

The last Wednesday of every month is Trivia Night at KFL. Play alone or bring a team (or join one of our friendly groups of regulars). Admission is free, but players who choose to pay a $2 entry fee are eligible to collect a share of half of that night's pot if their team wins. (Of course, if you're playing alone, you keep the whole half.) The other half goes to purchasing items for the library's collection. Join us on January 30 at 6:30.

In Stitches - January 8, 15, 22, 29

Do you love to knit? Crochet? Sew? Have you always wanted to learn? Do you have an unfinished project hidden on the closet shelf? Then join us for "In Stitches", our handicrafts group! This is a great opportunity to expand your skills and learn from others, about knitting, crocheting, sewing, embroidering, or other handicrafts while enjoying the company of others. Bring a project you are working on, or come learn from the very beginning (please bring your own supplies). Knitting help will be available.

In Stitches meets every Tuesday morning at 11:00 a.m. in the Walker Room. No registration is needed, just drop by for as long as you like.

Tech Time - January 4, 11, 18, 25

Join us on Fridays from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. for our ongoing service, Tech Time. Attendees will work one-on-one with a librarian to answer your technology questions. Registration required.

Technology is becoming more complicated so we're here to help. Having difficulty downloading the cloudLibrary app? Got a tablet for your birthday and need help setting it up? Please make an appointment by contacting the library at 207-985-2173. This service has quickly become very popular so your patience in waiting for an accommodation is greatly appreciated.

This service is intended to help educate you about your device or to troubleshoot minor technology issues. Our goal is that you'll leave our session with the confidence and knowledge to troubleshoot your own future technology hurdles.

Library News & Events

Overdrive is Coming Back!

In March 2017 Kennebunk Free Library moved to the online platform CloudLibrary (CL). Previously using the platform OverDrive (OD), we made the switch as a member of the statewide library consortium because it provided a very economical way to allow us to continue to offer a wide-range of e-book and e-audiobook materials.

Unfortunately though, we still don't have any control on the titles purchased for the collection and an added problem is that patrons are no longer able to use e-ink technology devices, namely the Kindle Paperwhite, because they are not compatible with CL.

Fast-forward almost two years. We heard a lot of feedback from our community survey this past spring about the disappointment our patrons were experiencing using CL. Whether it was the 600 day wait list for an item or the inability to use their Paperwhite KFL knew we needed to make things right.

Just as staff started the discussion around how to bring back OD we heard from Ginny Crowley, board member of the Webhannet Charitable Foundation. Thanks to her hard work and the generosity of the Foundation, KFL received a donation to get OD up and going. This time around KFL will have our own private platform for only our patrons. While we won't have the breadth of materials available through CL, we will have the ability with OD to curate the collection to the specifications of our patrons, wait lists will be much shorter since only those with a KFL card can access it, and patrons can once again use their Paperwhites. For those that still like the broader range of available titles and don't mind the long wait times we will still belong to CL as well.

More information will be coming soon. Plan for a release date in early February.

Coming Soon: A Library Telescope!

Thanks to a generous donation from of the Friends of the Kennebunk Free Library, the library will be adding a telescope to our circulating collection! The telescope was modified by Cornerstones of Science, a Maine nonprofit that works to bring STEM programming to libraries nationwide, to ensure that it is user friendly and sturdy enough to hold up to repeated use. Cornerstones of Science also provided free training to the KFL staff.

Beginning on January 7, the telescope can be checked out at the adult circulation desk for a week at a time (all checkouts will be Wednesday - Tuesday). You will be able to make reservations in advance, so you can plan ahead for your stargazing weekends.

KFL staff is very excited about this new addition - we hope you will be too! - and grateful to The Friends of KFL and Cornerstones of Science for making it possible.

Adult Collection Reorganization

On January 9, we will begin reorganizing the adult collection to make it more accessible. Large print books will finally be all together again (and off of the floor!). The biggest change: mysteries will be integrated with the fiction collection. We have heard from a number of you that it is confusing to have authors' works spread across the two different sections. We will continue to use the green "mystery" labels so mystery books will still be easily identifiable.

Our goal is to minimize the amount of bending and stretching necessary for patrons and staff alike. The new configuration will make books more visible and easier to reach. We will have many maps and signs available to point you in the right direction as you adjust to the new set-up.

Thank you for your patience while we are in transition. We are hoping that it will be a fairly speedy turn-around but we will likely be in flux for a few days. As always, we appreciate your feedback. We want to ensure that your library works for you. Stop by the circulation desk, give us a call, or e-mail us with comments or suggestions.
